CODE OF CONDUCT FOR EVENTS AND COMPETITIONS

The CCSHA contains members at all levels of experience, from very diverse backgrounds, with extensive areas of expertise. Some horses in our registries may be commencing their training as foals, while others may be competing at extremely high levels. With this in mind, CCSHA events are designed to be fully inclusive and provide equal opportunities for all competitors. Our aim is to make everyone feel comfortable and supported, while show-casing the versatility of the Clydesdale Cross Sport Horse.

The Code of Conduct outlined below aims to provide guidelines regarding the behaviour members / participants / representatives at CCSHA events and competitions. It is by no means exhaustive and is an attempt to address fundamental principles and to highlight some of the most sensitive and important issues.

When attending CCSHA held or sponsored events and competitions, members are bound by the Code of Conduct, as well as the Code of Ethics and Social Media Policy. Any person who breaches the Code, may be subject to disciplinary action, including cancellation of membership and stripping of awards / titles.

COMPETITORS / RIDERS / HANDLERS

- Abide by the rules of the event, the CCSHA and Equestrian Australia
- Respect the decisions of Judges and CCSHA officials and make all appeals and complaints through the formal process
- Respect the rights, dignity and worth of fellow competitors, judges, officials, volunteers and spectators regardless of their gender, ability, cultural background or religion
- Encourage and acknowledge the talent, potential, development and effort of fellow competitors. Display modesty in victory and graciousness in defeat
- Maintain high standards of behaviour at all times and set a good example in dress and horse presentation
- Do not use acts of aggression, threatening, sledging or deliberately distracting behaviour under any circumstance
- Refrain from drinking alcohol, smoking or using a mobile phone whilst in the ring / class
- Care for and respect the equipment provided
- Ensure that horses are adequately trained / prepared for the event and possess an appropriate level of health, fitness and soundness
- Wear clothing and safety equipment that is appropriate for horse riding / handling
- Ensure that tack and gear is in good order, correctly fitted and safe for the type of activities being conducted
- Make every effort to ensure that the horse's welfare is not compromised, including paying careful attention to competition areas, ground surfaces, weather conditions, stabling / yarding at the event, fitness for travel, etc.

CCSHA OFFICIALS

- Respect the talent and diversity of each rider / handler and their horse and seek to develop their potential via a fair and carefully thought-out program / itinerary
- Provide equal opportunities for all participants regardless of their gender, ability, cultural background or religion
- Operate within the rules and spirit of the CCSHA and encourage riders / handlers to do the same
- Ensure that time spent at CCSHA events are a positive experience
